Dr. Adrian Lashmore-Davies. British Academy Postdoctoral Fellow, English Faculty, Cambridge University; adrianlashmore@hotmail.com. Research interest: Work in progress includes The unpublished letters of Henry St. John, 1st Viscount Bolingbroke, 5 vols., Pickering and Chatto, 2011; see www.pickeringchatto.com. He has recently published "The correspondence of Henry St. John and Sir William Trumbull, 1698-1710" Eighteenth-Century Life vol. 32 (2008); "La fuite du Prince d'Orange & Montereau: the Siege of Oudenarde in 1674" in 1708 Oudenarde and Lille: a tercentenary commemoration in prose and verse ed. by David Money (Bringfield's Head Press, 2008).

Darren S. Layne. 1510 30th Ave., San Francisco, CA 94122, USA; funkyplaid@mac.com. Research interest: Social and military consciousness during the Jacobite era; impressment and coercion in the '45; the beginnings of a broad-based Jacobite database.

Dr. Luca Leoni PhD. Via Passo dei Coresi 63, 00049 Velletri, Italy; elle.leoni@libero.it.
Research interest: The Italian connections of Cardinal Henry Benedict Stuart. Michael Philip Ellis, Bishop of Segni (Italy) from 1708-1726, formerly chaplain to King James II and Mary Beatrice of Modena in London.

David Lindsay. 13 Foxhills Crescent, Lanchester, Durham, DH7 0PW; davidaslindsay@hotmail.com. Research interest: The Jacobite legacy in terms of doubt about the legitimacy of Hanoverian Britain and her Empire among Catholics, High Churchmen (who produced first Methodism and then Anglo-Catholicism), Congregationalists, Baptists, Quakers and others and the contribution that this made to the emergence, both of American republicanism, and of the (Tory-led) anti-slavery, the Radical, the Labour and the peace movements in Britain.

Dr. Evelyn Lord. Institute of Continuing Education, University of Cambridge, Madingley Hall, Madingley, Cambridge CB23 8AQ; ea122@cam.ac.uk. Research interest: Sir John Hynde Cotton.

Mícheál Mac Craith. Professor of Modern Irish, NUI, Galway; Scoil na Gaelige, OE Gaillimh, Gaillimh, Republic of Ireland; micheal.maccraith@nuigalway.ie. Research interest: The literary work of Irish exiles in Leuven and Rome in the 17th century.

Professor Allan I. Macinnes. Professor of Early Modern History, University of Strathclyde; Department of History, McCance Building, Richmond St., Glasgow G1 1XQ; allan.macinnes@strath.ac.uk. Research interest: Identity and mobility from Jacobitism to Empire; this is a collaborative research project funded by the AHRC through the Research Institute for Irish and Scottish Studies, University of Aberdeen. Professor Macinnes's involvement (which has been transferred from Aberdeen to Strathclyde) is mainly dealing with Scottish Jacobite networks.

Professor John Miller. Queen Mary University of London; J.L.Miller@qmul.ac.uk. Research interest: The military presence in England and Ireland under George I. The army dealt with much perceived or alleged Jacobitism, much of which was probably High Toryism instead; this was most obviously seen in riots. There was also a fair amount of anti-Jacobite rhetoric and imagery in the civic celebrations often organised by the military.

Professor Paul Monod. Barton Hepburn Professor of History, Middlebury College; History Department, Middlebury College, Middlebury, VT 05753, U.S.A. Research interest: Imperial Island: a history of Britain and its empire, 1689-1837 was published by Blackwell Publishers in 2009; King Solomon's arts: the occult in the British Enlightenment, 1669-1815 to be published by Yale University Press.

Dr. Steve Murdoch. Reader in the School of History, University of St. Andrews, St. Katharine's Lodge, The Scores, St. Andrews, Fife KY16 9AL; sm117@st-andrews.ac.uk. Research interest: Jacobite societies among the exile community, in particular those involved with the Orden del Toboso and the Jacobite masonic lodges. Jacobite communities and networks abroad (particularly in Scandinavia, Russia and France), with a view to placing them in the context of the wider Scottish diaspora in the early modern period.

Robin Nicholson. Deputy Director. Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, 200 N. Boulevard, Richmond VA 23220-4007, USA; robin.nicholson@vmfa.museum. Research interest: Aspects of Scottish identity and culture and their visual expression during and after the Jacobite uprisings. In particular, the exploration of the endurance, revival and romanticization of certain symbols and iconographies throughout the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries.

Dr. Jonathan David Oates. Borough Archivist, London Borough of Ealing; 85 Lowdell Close, Yiewsley, Middlesex UB7 8BA; johnoates@hotmail.com. Research interest: Jacobitism in England and, in particular, the response of the government and its supporters in the localities to the rebellions of 1715 and 1745.

Mr. Frank O'Brien. Returning Adult Student at the University of Albany, New York; 8 Hawthorne Avenue, Troy, New York 12180, USA. Research interest: The Jacobite activities of Philip, Duke of Wharton.

He is the author of Ireland and the Jacobite cause: a fatal attachment Dublin: Four Courts Press, 2002, repr. 2004. His current research interests include Jacobitism; the Irish Diaspora in France and Spain during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries; the Irish Outlaw; Irish military history; and the history of the Irish book.

David Parrish, Ph.D. candidate, University of Glasgow. Research interest: I recently submitted a Ph.D. thesis titled Jacobitism and the British Atlantic World in the Age of Anne. As the title of the thesis suggests, I am primarily interested in the existence and expression of Jacobitism and anti-Jacobitism throughout the British Atlantic world, c. 1689-1727. For my next project, I intend to explore the relationship between the rage of party, Jacobitism, and small-pox inoculation in the British Atlantic world, c. 1721-1724.

Professor Murray Pittock. Bradley Professor of English Literature, University of Glasgow, 5 University Gardens, Glasgow G12 8QQ; M.Pittock@englit.arts.gla.ac.uk. Research interest: A revised edition of his The Myth of the Jacobite Clans appeared in April 2009. He is currently working on a book, Treacherous objects: material culture and the language of sedition, 1688- 1760, and an edition of The Scottish Musical Museum for the Oxford Burns.

Ricky Pound. rickycraigpound@hotmail.co.uk. Research interest: In his research on the life of Richard Boyle, 3rd Earl of Burlington, he has concentrated his studies on the intriguing possibility that the Earl was a closet Jacobite and important freemason. He has explored in great detail the iconography within the architecture and decoration of the Earl's villa at Chiswick which he believes was designed primarily as a Masonic Temple.

Dr. Clotilde Prunier. Maître de Conférences, Université Paul-Valéry Montpellier. Institut de Recherches sur la Renaissance, l'Age Classique et les Lumières (IRCL), UMR 5186 de CNRS, Université Paul-Valéry, Route de Mende, 34199 Montpellier Cedex 5, France; clotilde.prunier@univ-montp3.fr. Research interest: The European networks of the Scottish Mission in the eighteenth century. They mainly consisted of the Scots College (Rome, Paris, Douai, and Madrid - transferred in 1770 to Valladolid), the Schottenklöster (i.e. the Benedictine monasteries of Ratisbon and Würzburg) and the connections established by prominent members of the Scottish Mission abroad e.g. the Innes brothers (France), Peter Grant (Italy) and John Geddes (Spain). Very often, particularly in the first half of the eighteenth century (Lewis Innes and Peter Grant are cases in point), there was some major overlap between Scottish Catholic networks and the Jacobite diaspora.

Dr. Katharine M. Quinsey. Department of English, University of Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, NPB 3P4, Canada; kateq@uwindsor.ca. Research interest: Alexander Pope's thought and imagination; Catholicism and politics in his poetry, religion and the book trade in his publishing practices. This study will appear soon under the title Tempting grace: the religious imagination of Alexander Pope. Her future project is Under the Veil: faith, freedom and feminism in post- Reformation England which will examine the paradoxical position of women on both sides of the Catholic-Protestant divide in seventeenth- and eighteenth-century England.

Dr. Guy Rowlands. Lecturer in Modern History, and Director of the Centre for French History and Culture, University of St Andrews; School of History, St. Katharine's Lodge, The Scores, University of St Andrews, St Andrews, KY16 9AL, Fife; gr30@st-andrews.ac.uk. Research interest: A major monographic study on the military-industrial complex of Louis XIV's France, focussing on the bankers, financiers, arms industries, and artillery service in the 1689-1714 period; articles on the royal household forces in France c.1682-1789; a subsequent major monograph on all the foreign mercenaries of Louis XIV's post-1659 armies, including the Scots and the Irish.

Dr. Margaret Sankey. Associate Professor, History, Minnesota State University Moorhead; History Department, 1104 7th Ave South, Moorhead, MN 56563, USA; sankeym@mnstate.edu or sankeym@gmail.com. Research interest: Recent research covers the 1715 Rebellion and its resulting prisoners; new research on the family and patronage network of Chancellor Philip Yorke, Earl Hardwicke, at mid-century and during the '45 Rebellion.

Dr. Marsha Keith Schuchard. 1423 Cornell Road NE, Atlanta, Georgia 30306, USA; keithschuchard@gmail.com. Research interest: International Jacobite diaspora in the 18th century, especially as connected with Masonic rivalries between Hanoverians and Jacobites. Currently completing a political and Masonic biography, Emanuel Swedenborg: secret agent on earth and heaven which recounts his role in the Swedish 'Hat' party, supporters of the Jacobites for many decades; and articles on Sabbatian-Kabbalistic influences on the Moravians and Swedenborgians in William Blake's circle.

Abbot Geoffrey Scott. Douai Abbey, Upper Woolhampton, Reading RG7 5TQ; abbot@douaiabbey.org.uk. Research interest: Dom Jean Mabillon and the Court at Saint- Germain-en-Laye.

Richard Sharp Esq. Sometime Senior Research Fellow, Worcester College, Oxford; 16 Front Street, Glanton, Northumberland NE66 4AJ; aulicus@glanton.freeserve.co.uk.

Research interest: The English non-jurors, with a particular interest in exploring how their theological, liturgical and devotional interests brought them into association and even active collaboration with conforming High Churchmen, investigated recently through the evidence of subscription lists. Engraved English portraiture in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, with special reference to adherents of the Jacobite cause.

James Smith. FRHistS. Independent Scholar, former Visiting Research Fellow University of Wales, Lampeter. Currently residing in Newfoundland, Canada. james.smith@eastlink.ca. Research interest: Eighteenth-Century Britain, religion and politics; especially the Nonjuring church, divine-right doctrine, Jacobite polemic, and the Stuart court-in-exile. Currently working on a new biography of James III.

Dr. Scott Sowerby. Assistant Professor, Northwestern University; Department of History, 1881 Sheridan Road, Evanston, IL, 60208-2220, USA; sowerby@northwestern.edu. Research interest: James II, religious toleration, and the comparative history of Britain and France. His recent publications include Making Toleration: The Repealers and the Glorious Revolution (2013) and "Forgetting the Repealers: Religious Toleration and Historical Amnesia in Later Stuart England," Past and Present, no. 215 (May 2012). He is currently working on a book, States of Exclusion: Britain and France, 1685-1715, that will contrast the experience of Catholics in Britain with the experience of Huguenots in France.

Dr. Dòmhnall Uilleam Stiùbhart. Post-Doctoral Fellow, Celtic and Scottish Studies, University of Edinburgh; c/o Celtic and Scottish Studies, University of Edinburgh, 19 George Square, Edinburgh EH8 9LD. Research interest: The multifarious, changing Scottish Highland perspectives on Jacobitism, especially during the period 1725-1759.

Dr. Rivka Swenson. Assistant Professor, Department of English, Virginia Commonwealth University. Research interest: English Catholic Jacobitism before 1745; sentimental Jacobitism and nationalism after 1745; Jacobitism, gender and genre. Currently working on a book manuscript; an essay on Jane Barker appeared in Studies in Eighteenth-Century Culture in 2005; an essay on Tobias Smollet is forthcoming in an edited collection to be published by the University of Delaware Press.

Professor Daniel Szechi. History, School of Arts, Histories and Cultures, The University of Manchester, Oxford Road, Manchester M13 9PL; daniel.szechi@manchester.ac.uk. Research interest: An electronic edition of the 600-plus letters of Father James Carnegy, a priest on the Scottish Mission, 1697-1734, which will eventually appear on British History Online. The Jacobite Moment: going into, and coming out of, Jacobitism, 1689-1788. A re-evaluation of the 1708 Franco-Jacobite conspiracy.

Mrs Victoria Thorpe. 27 Dudley Road, Ventnor, Isle of Wight, PO38 1EH; victoriathorpe@btinternet.com. Research interest: Jacobite freemasonry and medals relative to the Jacobite movement.
